Sustainability indicators

measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

What are the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially intends to make and how does the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The Fund promotes one of the climate and environmental objectives as included in article 9 of the Taxonomy Regulation, more specifically the objective 'climate change mitigation' and 'climate change adaptation'. The Fund promotes these objectives in its underlying investments, by promoting the stabilization of greenhouse gas concentrations in the atmosphere consistent with the long-term temperature goal of the Paris Agreement and promoting the resilience of its underlying investments to climate change.

How do the sustainable investments that the financial product partially intends to make, not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

To ensure that the sustainable investment in which the Fund invests do no significant harm to any environmental or social objective, various environmental or social sustainability related subjects are monitored, more specifically the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors applicable to real estate assets.

The do no significant harm principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

How have the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors been taken into account?

The Fund considers principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors as per its ESG Policy by measuring and monitoring the negative impact on sustainability factors. The adverse impact indicators on sustainability factors that the Fund considers are aligned with the ESG Policy and strategic areas of interest and are chosen taking into account materiality, data quality and availability. The following principal adverse impacts are taken into consideration in this statement for investments in real estate assets:

- i) Exposure to fossil fuels through real estate assets;
- ii) Exposure to energy-inefficient real estate assets;
- iii) Greenhouse gas emissions; and
- iv) Energy consumption intensity

i) Exposure to fossil fuels through real estate assets

The exposure to fossil fuels through real estate assets is measured via the share of real estate investments involved in extraction, storage, transport or manufacture of fossil fuels. The Fund has no exposure to fossil fuels.

ii) Exposure to energy-inefficient real estate assets

Exposure to energy-inefficient real estate assets is measured as real estate assets with an energy C-label or lower. As at 30 September 2025, 7.0% of the Fund's assets are inefficient real estate assets

iii) Greenhouse gas emissions

GHG emissions generated by real estate are measured as Scope 1, 2 and 3 emissions. As at 31 December 2024, the Fund's GHG intensity is 6 kg CO<sub>2</sub> per sq.m. per year. Coinciding with its net zero target, the Fund has set the objective to reduce its GHG emissions, achieving a net zero portfolio in 2045.

iv) Energy consumption intensity

Energy consumption intensity is measured as kWh of owned real estate assets per square meter. As at 31 December 2024, the Fund's Energy consumption intensity is 117 kWh / sq.m. / year. Coinciding with its net zero target, the Fund has set the objective to reduce the Energy consumption intensity, achieving a net zero portfolio in 2045.
